

The social network Twitter is increasingly popular and the tendency to share images, photos, opinions is part of the lives of people, groups, companies, etc, and it is something that people are doing more and more, the example is the channel @WeRateDogs, the pun with the name of the channel already demonstrates the spirit of the channel, the channel has a very peculiar and sui generis classification (you can follow it in the first display the classification and rating of each one below) and funny comments about the dogs, due to creativity and good humor the channel has gained many followers (currently more than 9 million) and demonstrates its success in numbers.

Regarding the channel, it is interesting to know some curiosities such as what is the most popular name among dogs,

do you know ?????

The answer is.....Charlie

Display above you know the 25 most popular names).

